

Daniel J. Weinfurter

Class of 1975

Daniel J. Weinfurter is an accomplished entrepreneur and Chief Executive Officer of Capital H Group LLC, a national consulting firm based in Chicago, Illinois. Capital H Group helps their clients create value – through their people – for better business results. He has expanded the firm to seven offices across the country, with additional locations planned in the US and elsewhere. Prior to launching Capital H, Mr. Weinfurter was the founder and CEO of Parson Consulting Group, a company that served the finance, accounting and business systems areas of large organizations. In 2000, Inc. magazine ranked Parson as the fastest-growing private company in the United States. In 2002, Mr. Weinfurter sold Parson to a British company, Management Consultant Group, PLC. A respected authority on how human capital issues affect business results, Dan has been featured or quoted in many newspapers and magazines. He earned both a B.S. and an M.B.A. from Marquette University.

Spring, 2007